Welcome:
We hope that your involvement with any of the over 70 officially recognized student organizations at Rutgers-Newark will make the campus feel a bit smaller. Involvement in student organizations joins together individuals with similar views and opinions, which creates an opportunity for developing new ideas, discovering hidden talents, cultivating interpersonal skills, and providing a way to accomplish collectively what could not be done individually. Participation in a group enables you to feel empowered.

The Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership is committed to your involvement, with a belief steadfastly grounded in the knowledge that students who participate in activities will ultimately get more out of their college experience. In so doing, you will contribute positively to the larger environment in which you live. As you can imagine, there is far more to college than the academic experience. Many alumni may recall that their involvement in a student organization was as memorable and valuable as their academic pursuits. Rutgers-Newark student organizations each leave their own special mark on the cultural, social, and intellectual life of the University.

The staff within the Office of Student Life and Leadership provides support and advising to each student organization, with the hope of promoting participation, leadership, and personal growth. We hope you will visit us in the Paul Robeson Campus Center at any time to ask questions and get information about joining an organization. If your interests should happen not to match up with any currently existing organization, our staff will be happy to assist you in considering alternatives.

In short, we are committed to your ultimate success, both as a student and as a contributing force within Rutgers Newark and the greater community. Once you belong to one, or several, groups, we hope your organization will find this Student Organization Handbook useful as you plan events, hold meetings, sustain your organization financially, and otherwise navigate the intricacies of Rutgers-Newark.

The information in the Student Organization Handbook is provided as a resource to help leaders organize their clubs and plan for events. While the Student Organization Handbook is intended to be a summary of policies and procedures, it is NOT a comprehensive listing of all rules and regulations pertaining to student organizations. The Office of Student Life and Leadership reserves the right to change any procedure or policy listed without notice. Please be aware that University departments may have their own procedures and policies that apply to student organizations, which are not listed in the Student Organization Handbook.

Best of luck to you and your organization this year!

Financial Guidelines

What Are Student Fees

Student fees are funds of Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey. They are not funds belonging to students and, as all University funds, can only be used to promote higher education of the people of this state. Like tuition payments, student fees are collected from the students, and it is the University's decision to allocate them to certain student activities. Provided that an educational purpose can be found, the activities fund may be used to promote and encourage programs which are socially, culturally and recreationally beneficial to the entire student body.

These rules and regulations are a compilation of New Jersey Law (NJL), Rutgers Policy (RP), and The Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership (OFFICE OF STUDENT LIFE AND LEADERSHIP). These policies result from the University’s need to account for the use of State and Federal funds and form previous consideration at our campus of proper fund usage.

Definition By Law

New Jersey statutes (NJSA 18A 65:2) define Student Activities’ monies as being the property of the University. Therefore, the University has an obligation to oversee the use of these funds. Any questions regarding funding and approved uses for student’s activities' monies should be addressed to the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership.

Who Can Utilize The Student Fee?

1. Officially recognized & registered student organizations that are open to and will benefit the undergraduate or graduate student body.

2. Officially recognized & registered student organizations or groups representing Rutgers at an approved function and/or place.
Who Can't Utilize The Student Fee?

- All Greek letter organizations except for activities that can benefit the entire student body determined by the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership.
- All organizations that are not recognized by the Rutgers University Newark Student Governing Association, and/or the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership.

- Organizations in which members and activities sponsored are for partisan political or religious groups only.

In addition, official student organizations sponsoring activities funded by student fees:

This may impact the organization's ability to receive future student fee funding.*
- May not deposit student fees or monies derived from the fee in an outside bank account.
- Are exempt from paying NJ state sales tax, in connection with its purchases. Copies of the letter authorizing this exemption to the University will be furnished.
- Must furnish a valid invoice, bill, receipt or contract before payment can be authorized. When this is impractical, as the case of a speaker, dance or concert, a letter of intent or contract must accompany the voucher. A receipt should be prepared by the organization for signature by the performer at the time of payment.

General Guidelines Overseeing Funding of Respected Organizations

New Organizations

- Each new organization must be considered “official” by achieving recognition first via the how to start a new organization policy with the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership. After successfully meeting the criteria of the policy an organization may receive full recognition as a student organization.
- Greek Letter organizations interested in expansion to Rutgers-Newark must follow the policies of the Inter Fraternity-Sorority Council and Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership.
- A newly recognized organization may not be funded for any debts incurred prior to its recognition.
- New student and Greek Letter organizations must follow recognition policy as outlined. All potential new organizations must also contact the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership.

Recognized Organizations

- Student fee monies are allocated to clubs and organizations for specific purposes, programs or activities and must be used for that purpose, program, or activity, or returned to the Student Fund.
- Programs and activities not funded by the governments may be funded by revenue received from outside sources and/or dues.
- Events where participants include the general public; the sponsoring organization or club is responsible for receiving appropriate proportionate funding from non-University participants in order that Student Activities' monies do not support non-University participants.
Revenue received by a club or organization from dues, donations, fund-raising activities, or any other source but direct allocation from the Student Activities’ monies must be reported and deposited to the Paul Robeson Campus Center Accounting Office. Money generated by organizations on their own, may be spent as that organization desires.

Any money generated through the use of student government funds, must be deposited in the organizational account with the Student Accounting Office in the Paul Robeson Campus Center. These funds may be spent by the organization according to the government’s financial guidelines.

The use of any revenues generated by a club or organization is Student Activities’ monies. Nevertheless, it may not be controlled or appropriated by student government or any other outside group unless:

- Student Fee monies were used to help generate the revenues
- The use is contrary to other provisions of these guidelines.

No organization may exceed the maximum budget they have been allocated by the respective Student Governing Association for an event or program unless they utilize their generated revenue. If no generated revenue exists, the co-signees of the voucher shall be held responsible for all payments and the organization will be responsible for reimbursement of any overages.

Student organization accounts are closed during official breaks and after the last day of classes may not be utilized. The two official breaks are Winter Recess and Summer Session.

Money will not be committed or spent prior to the Symposium in the beginning for each semester and after the last day of classes.

Conferences/Competitions/Tournaments are considered a trip or a travel expense.
- Maximum number of conferences is limited to 2, of which only one can be national (exceeding 400 miles roundtrip), per semester.
- Maximum number of Competitions/Tournaments is limited to 6, of which only 2 can be what is considered national. In addition, only 1 can be considered international, per semester.
- Conference attendees are required to present an information session at their organization’s general meeting to inform students of the issues addressed at the conference.

Organizational Financial Responsibility

Monies allocated to a student organization are the property of the organization in the name of Rutgers University.

Accurate and complete financial records must be maintained by all organizations. These records may be subject to review by the organization’s respective governing council, Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership and Paul Robeson Campus Center Accounting Office.

Members of an organization may not make personal purchases in the name of the organization or Rutgers University.
Student organizations will be allocated specific amounts of monies. It is the responsibility of the organization to see to it that the expenditures do not exceed its capacity. Monetary assistance from any department and/or office within the University or any external sources must be reported to the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership. These sources must be recorded in the Accounting Office of the Paul Robeson Campus Center.

No organization will be allowed to go into debt because of negligent spending or mismanagement of funds. The members of an organization will be held accountable for any negligence or mismanagement of student monies.

Receipts or bills must be submitted for purchases or expenditures. If a student organization owes receipts a hold will be placed on all additional expenditures until resolved. If not resolved, a financial hold will be placed on the president and treasurer's university student accounts until all receipts are turned in.

A club or organization may not commit, by entering contracts, charging bills, or any other means, to spend funds that have not been allocated, previously raised or use grant money award letters as promissory funds. All funds must be in the organizations account prior to entering into contracts (please see next point about contracts)! Any such commitments are the personal responsibility of the person making them.

A student may not bind the University by signing a contract. If Student Activities' monies are involved, only an official administrator of the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership may sign contracts for the University. An individual student signing a contract may be personally liable for that contract.

Transferring of Funds

Transferring of funds is integral to the program planning process; it allows student organizations to collaborate on programs & events. As such all transfer of funds forms must have appropriate documentation.

Any governing council transferring funds to another organization, outside of tier allocations, must provide meeting minutes for indicating approval of monetary support, and a copy of the program proposal to the transfer of fund form.

Any organization transferring funds to another organization for purposes of co-sponsorship must attach a completed co-sponsorship agreement to the transfer of funds form.

Ordering Supplies

- All organizations must request an Office Max catalog from the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership, and all orders must be placed through the Accounting Office in the Paul Robeson Campus Center.

For reimbursement of personal expenses
• A voucher needs to be approved prior to purchasing anything that you wish the University to reimburse you for by the Office of Student Life and Leadership.
• The voucher cannot be signed by the person receiving the reimbursement.
• Original receipts must accompany the invoice voucher for reimbursement to be approved.
• If a receipt is missing, we cannot reimburse for it nor can we make duplicate receipts.
• Receipts should provide name of vendor, address, phone number and be itemized. Register tape and adding machine receipts are not accepted.

Contracts

STUDENTS SHOULD NEVER SIGN CONTRACTS. BY DOING THIS THE STUDENT ACCEPTS THE FINANCIAL AND LIABILITY TERMS OF THE CONTRACT.

Contracts are a binding agreement between the University and a performer or agency. They are usually used to book a band, DJ, comedian, lecturer or artist. All contracts must have: Rutgers-University as the purchaser; not a student group or a student's name; be reviewed and signed by the Assistant Dean or an Assistant Director of the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership.

Exceptions may be made for gratuities that are included in the cost of the meal. Gratuities to wait staff exceeding those already included in the meal cost are not reimbursable.

Vouchers and Financial Forms

Organization Presidents and Treasurers must have their signature on file with the Paul Robeson Campus Center Accounting Office. All paper forms must be signed by the organizations Treasurer, if the treasurer is not available the organization President may sign.

Adherence to Submitted Budgets

Student organizations should conform as closely as possible to their submitted itemized budget.

If funding is left over at the end of an academic year because an event did not occur or expenses were not as anticipated, those funds will be rolled back into the account of the funding governing council to be used by student organizations in the following academic year.

Roll-Backs:

All unused allocated programming funds will be taken back at the end of the academic year and reallocated the following year. Funds will carry over from the fall semester to the spring semester and be taken back at the end of the academic year. Generated Revenue will not be altered. These organizations are not permitted to use university facilities, post flyers, nor have any of the privileges recognized organizations have earned. Unrecognized organizations are not held to the University or Council standards that govern their behavior. They operate without the oversight, training and education provided by Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership.

Greek Letter Organization Unrecognized Policy

The Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership will work to insure the success of all fraternities and sororities at Rutgers-Newark and, in particular, new ones. New fraternities and sororities bring vitality to the Greek Community that allows it to grow and develop more fully. Understanding both the advantages and challenges of new group expansion, the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council (IFSC) will work in concert with the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership in all matters relating to chapter expansion.

Any Fraternity or Sorority interested in recruiting members from the Rutgers-Newark Student body must first be recognized by the Inter Fraternity-Sorority Council. Any organization that recruits and initiates Rutgers-Newark Students without having been recognized will be in violation of the IFSC Constitution. Any unrecognized organization found in violation of this policy will be denied the opportunity to petition for recognition on our campus for up to 2 years.

As a student it is important to understand, that if you choose to become a part of an unrecognized organization you will never be recognized by the Rutgers-Newark and sometimes by the national board as an official member of that organization. Therefore, be sure to verify the status of an organization with the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student life and Leadership before beginning New Member Education Program for a fraternity or sorority. In addition, any Rutgers-Newark student that participates in an intake process of an organization not currently recognized by the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership may be in violation of the Rutgers University Code of Conduct items G (hazing) and W (violations of other published University regulations or policies). Sanctions may include but are not limited to disciplinary probation, suspension and/or expulsion.

Starting a New Student Organization

More than 70 student organizations exist on the Rutgers-Newark Campus. There are organizations that are culturally oriented, artistic in nature, connected with academic departments or organized to meet the needs of a variety of student populations at Rutgers-Newark (e.g., commuters, residents, etc.). If you decide, after surveying the list of organizations that are currently recognized, that none of them meet your needs, you may want to start a new one. Here’s how:

1. Meet with a Graduate Coordinator for Student Development to discuss your idea for the organization, its purpose, and how to begin.

2. Any person(s) interested in starting a new organization may do so in either the Fall or Spring Semester within the following time frames. In the Fall semester, new organizations may form in the week following the Student Organization Showcase.
through December 1\textsuperscript{st}. In the Spring Semester, new organizations may form the week after the Student Organization Showcase through April 15\textsuperscript{th}.

3. Organization recognition is a three level process (see levels of recognition as listed above). The provisional period or Level One is a trial period for a club to use to get established on campus; this period can last for one year prior to becoming recognized. Once an organization completes their provisional period they move to Level Two. Depending on the nature of the organization they may continue to function as a Level Two organization. If an organization wishes to gain Student Governing Association (SGA) recognition they would begin that process after completing the first two levels. The Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership (OFFICE OF STUDENT LIFE AND LEADERSHIP) administers this process.

4. All potential organizations must complete the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership Application for Provisional Recognition form. This form outlines the seven items that must be completed prior to a new organization being granted provisional recognition.

5. All constitutions must contain the following statements, failure to include these statements will cause your constitution to be invalid. This applies to organizations interested in receiving recognition by a governing council.

5a. Non-Discrimination Clause

“The membership of this organization shall consist of the following: (Generally membership should be regular membership, open to all registered students attending full or part time. They may be required to pay dues. In some cases, associate memberships are given to those who do not qualify for regular membership, e.g. alumni, non-students, faculty, etc.) Membership may not be denied on the basis of sex, race, religion, handicap, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sexual orientation, marital status, veteran status, (See Title IX, The Americans with Disabilities Act, ADA compliance or The Act).”

6. A completed Application for Provisional Recognition packet must be submitted to the Graduate Coordinator in the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership.

7. Greek Letter Organizations interested in expanding to Rutgers Newark must contact Genevieve Sumski, Assistant Dean Paul Robeson Campus Center.

Other Useful Programming Policies & Information

Public Viewing of Films/Movies

The showing of movies and films is a popular program for student organizations. However, it is important that student organizations abide by “public performance” laws to ensure they are not infringing upon film makers’ copyrights. Renting a movie without public distribution licensing or bringing in a personal copy to show your membership for the general public is ILLEGAL and subjects the parties involved (students, your organization and possibly the University) to fines up to $50,000. To abide by the copyright laws, a site license must be purchased.

What is a “Public Performance?”
Public viewing, or “performance,” of a film or video includes, but is not limited to the following:

- Showing a film/video in places open to the public.
- Showing a film/video to certain groups of people gathered in places not open to the public (such as a residence hall floor, fraternity house, private lounge area, etc.).
- Showing a film or video by broadcast or transmission, including internet or cable channel.

A good rule to follow is: a “public performance” is any film/video viewing that extends beyond the scope of a single family or friends. Some common student organization programs that would require the securing of a site license are: Movies/videos shown in student centers, academic space and/or residence halls and outdoor movies. The organization is required to purchase a site license, whether or not the film/video is advertised, admission is charged or if it is free. In addition, the organization’s status (not-for-profit) does not impact the group’s requirement to purchase a license. Any group that publicly presents a motion picture without first securing permission from the copyright owner violates the Copyright Act and subjects themselves to statutory damages, forfeiture of equipment and tapes, and attorney fees. Student organizations need to be aware that the penalties for copyright infringement may include substantial fines and imprisonment.

Exceptions for Obtaining a Movie Copyright

There are two times when movie copyrights do not need to be obtained.

1. Movies for In Classroom Use:
   In classroom performance of copyrighted videotape is permissible under the following conditions:
   - The performance is by instructors or by pupils
   - The performance is part of the class curriculum.
   - The performance is in connection with face-to-face teaching activities.
   - The entire audience is involved in the teaching activity.
   - The entire audience is in the same room or same general area.
   - The teaching activities are conducted by a non-profit educational institution.
   - The performance takes place in a classroom or similar place devoted to instruction, such as a school library, gym, auditorium or workshop.
   - The videotape is lawfully made; the person responsible had no reason to believe that the videotape was unlawfully made.

2. Movies from Dana Library:
   Any movie that is checked out from the Dana Library already contains a copyright through the library; therefore, this movie can be shown to the Rutgers University, and greater community, without needing to purchase a copyright. Please note that student organizations must borrow the film from the library and may not show a personal copy that the library also owns.

How do we obtain a site license?

To secure a site license for a video or a film, the student organization must contact a major film distributor, such as Swank Motion Pictures or New Yorker Films. These companies distribute films of the major studios and are equipped to provide licenses for public viewings. Licenses can be purchased for a one time viewing, multiple viewings, or for the viewings of several films/videos over an extended period of time. Keep in mind that licenses are provided... for films/videos that are rented “through an authorized dealer.” Videos that are rented from a retail outlet (i.e., Blockbuster, Netflix, etc.) are provided for home use only and the retail owner cannot legally provide the broader rights available through a distributor. In addition, when an individual or organization buys a film/video, it does not give them the right to view it publicly. Ownership of a film/video and the right to publicly show it are two different things. The first time the organization shows the film/video outside the home or to an audience beyond family and friends, they have violated the copyright law and may be liable.

Personal Invitation Policy

Campus Leadership
If your organization is planning on inviting any member of the Rutgers-Newark Campus Leadership i.e. Chancellors, Deans, Directors and/or Professors, your organization must notify your Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator. Any invitations issued must be done with the approval of your Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator. Failure to do so may result in your organization losing privileges.

Local, State or International Officials
Due to the complexities associated with Local, State and International Officials, any organization interested in inviting any official to campus must submit your request in writing to the Assistant Dean a minimum of 4 weeks prior to the event. Failure to do so may result in your organization losing privileges.

Media
All contact with the media i.e. television, radio or newspaper must be coordinated by the Office of Communications. Your Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator can assist you with this process. Please note there is a process to be followed anytime media is on campus due to its potential impact on the campus community. Failure to do so may result in your organization losing privileges.

Public Forums
Anyone planning to hold an outdoor public forum, such as a rally or candlelight vigil, is encouraged to file a Public Forum Notification Form with the Office of Student Life and Leadership. The process is applicable to all registered organizations at Rutgers University that wish to hold public forums at Rutgers University. Although not required, the filing of a Public Forum Notification is encouraged by all organizations. Non-university entities are not given nor do they have implied priority on University property in the free speech area. No commercial entities (University affiliated or otherwise) are permitted to sell merchandise and services in the free speech area. For more information on public forums, see your student organization’s Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator.
Food Guidelines

Food at Programs/Events/Lectures, etc.

Food is allowed at all programs but MUST be indicated during the EPF process at least 4 weeks before the scheduled date.

Food at events is to be pre-approved by the Office of Student Life and Leadership.

Food at General Meetings

When is it appropriate for student organizations to have food at meetings?

- When the meeting is a Recruitment meeting/program (i.e. first meeting of semester/year)
- Celebratory meeting (end of semester/end of year);
- During Training/Retreats
- Anytime a meeting becomes an “event” – program is advertised outside the group – and there is going to be food at the “event”, you MUST abide by the above guidelines for Food at Programs/Events/Lectures and meet with your Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator at least 4 weeks prior to the event in order to complete an EPF.

Guidelines for Food at General Meetings

- Organizations should not purchase food for weekly general body meetings. Organization funding should be used towards creation of programs and events
- Food for meetings must be purchased from Rutgers Dining Services. No catering from outside vendors is permitted
- Small food items must be prepackaged and approved by the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator.

Pre-Packaged Refreshments

Pre-packaged items may be provided by the student organization. This usually includes party size snacks (i.e. large bag of chips, cookies, pretzels, etc). Pre-packaged items requiring temperature control (heating or cooling) are not permitted. All cold beverages must be PepsiCo.

Cook-Outs/Picnics

All Cook-Outs must be done through Rutgers University Catering. Any organization looking to utilize planned cookouts and/or picnics must first meet with their respective Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator and get written approval.

Cultural Food
Student organizations that are defined by their constitution as cultural and/or religious may be granted a waiver to use a Non-University caterer if they plan to host an event that is cultural in nature and/or they require specially prepared food that cannot be provided by a Rutgers University Student Centers approved vendor.

An approved vendor/caterer must meet all health, safety, and insurance standards as determined by the University Sanitarian. Submitting Information for a waiver does not guarantee approval. Event staff will guide your organization through the appropriate student center procedures. A Rutgers Dining Cultural Food Waiver must be submitted and approved by your Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator at least 4 weeks prior to your event.

All caterers must provide a copy of their sanitation certificate and an original certificate of General Liability Insurance valued at one million dollars ($1,000,000.00) naming Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey as additionally insured. This must be received by the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator at least ten (10) business days prior to the event. The vendor is required to deliver the food to the appropriate Student Center. In all instances, student organizations are responsible for the proper disposal of trash, food, serving utensils and dishes left in the room and service areas.

What is NOT permitted?

Homemade Foods

Homemade foods/foods that have to be prepared (i.e., baked goods; sandwich fixings that are not from approved on-campus caterers) are not permitted at any programs, events, lectures, or meetings. Bake Sales are the only instance during which the use of homemade food items is permitted and are subject to specific guidelines and procedures (See Bake Sale Sections below).

Potluck

Potluck dinners are not permitted due to potential risks related to transporting items that require temperature control (heating or cooling) and unsanitary food preparation conditions.

Sale of Food Items

Candy sales – Fundraisers that include candy (i.e. Candy-Grams) are acceptable PROVIDED all candy is individually wrapped. Items that would not be acceptable are things such as M&M’s that are opened and sorted out or any type of bulk candy that is not individually packaged. You should never open or touch any candy that you are distributing to others as part of your fundraiser.

Bake Sales in Student Center Space - Student Organizations who wish to hold a bake sale in student center space must complete a Table Reservation Form and abide by the Fundraising, Ticket, and Vendor Sales policies (See “Tabling in Student Centers” Section). Only homemade baked goods may be sold at tables reserved for bake sales. No other foods or pre-package foods are permitted.

Contract For Services
All student organizations that plan to use the services of a non-Rutgers group, individual, organization or company should consult their Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator to discuss the contracts necessary for such services.

Contracts are an important way for you to protect yourself and your student organization from possible liability associated with events and programs. They serve as a standardized method of outlining what services a contractor will provide to you or your student organization and the amount of payment or services you agree to supply in return.

Contracts or Letters of Agreement should be processed whether or not the service provider is being paid. Just as you wouldn't buy a car or a house without a contract, never purchase the services of a D.J. or a caterer without a carefully executed and signed contract.

Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinators develop and sign contracts for student organizations. Students should NEVER, under any circumstances, sign contracts on behalf of their organization. If this happens, the student may be held personally liable for the terms of the contract, including payment. In this way you and your organization are protected from liability.

Examples of services that require a contract: (not all inclusive)
- Non-Rutgers Catering
- Bus Rental
- Performers/Lecturers (paid or unpaid)
- Non-Rutgers Equipment Rental
- Vendor Sales at Events/Programs

Contract Checklist For Speakers & Performers

- The speaker/facilitator and your Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator must sign contracts at least two weeks prior to the event date.
- Student organization members should NEVER sign contracts on behalf of the organization.
- RU employees will be paid via their paychecks if they are eligible to be paid for their services i.e. a biology professor who is a member of a jazz band that is performing during an event can be paid because s/he is providing a service that is not part of his/her job. Staff and Faculty who perform a service/provide a lecture or keynote, etc. that is related to their line of work SHOULD NOT BE PAID i.e. a Cultural Center Director cannot be paid to give a keynote during a student organization’s program.
- Supplier must provide a certificate of insurance with $1,000,000 minimum limit of general liability insurance, naming Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, as an additional insured.

If an organization is planning to sponsor such an event, an appointment should be made to discuss your plans with both the organization’s Faculty/Staff Advisor and the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator. Issues that must be kept in mind when planning off campus events include:

- liability
- negotiation of contracts (with the facility's management)
- financial management (off-campus facilities can be quite costly)
- security

No contracts will be signed unless all the necessary funds are on deposit in Accounting Office. Tickets must be sold in advance of any off-campus scheduled program. At the completion of the event, all contracted financial obligations should be satisfied by a Rutgers University Check. If you choose to hold an event off campus, please note that use of student fees will only be approved if this event directly relates to the mission of your organization. Student organizations are not encouraged to host off-campus events because it limits the opportunity for students to participate. However, should your organization plan such an event, it is essential that both the organization’s Faculty/Staff Advisor and the Paul Robeson Campus Center Office of Student Life and Leadership University Coordinator be involved in the process from the beginning.

Games of Chance, limited to raffles and bingo, are lawful activities in the State of New Jersey when, and only when, the sponsoring organization is registered with the state and licensed with the local township in which the drawing takes place and the prizes are awarded. The initial procedure to register a sponsoring organization and license their activity is as follows. Additional guidelines from the New Jersey Legalized Games of Chance Control Commission may apply once a sponsoring organization becomes registered. The sponsoring organization must first submit an Initial Affidavit and Application for Biennial Registration (found at: http://www.state.nj.us/lps/ca/lgccc/), along with the organization’s constitution and bylaws, to the New Jersey Legalized Games of Chance Control Commission.

There is a fee for the registration certificate and it is a biennial (2-year) registration for the requesting organization. If approved, the registration certificate will be mailed to the requesting organization along with a copy of the legalized games of chance laws for the State of New Jersey.
